MEDIA RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

The Eagle Fire Company of Mount Wolf Borough is proud to announce the company will become an Affiliate Member of the York Area United Fire and Rescue (YAUFR). A ceremony will be held at the York Area United Fire and Rescue Commission meeting at 7PM, February 17, 2015, at the YAUFR Headquarters, 50 Commons Drive in Springettsbury Township. The two Departments established their cooperative efforts in 2012 with the primary goal of efficient service delivery through common operational policies.

This agreement strengthens the current operational commitment and changes the station designation for Eagle Fire Company from Station 22 to Station 89-6. Eagle Fire company will remain an independent, 100% volunteer, organization and will maintain their current name and governing policies. The YAUFR Fire Chief and management staff will assist the command staff of Eagle Fire Company with operational management and training. This agreement will not change the current service delivery for the citizens of Mount Wolf Borough or East Manchester Township, instead it will enhance the service by providing additional resources.

YAUFR Fire Chief Robert McCoy stated, "We have worked with Eagle Fire Company for three years and have watched them grow to be a strong, professional organization that the Borough and Township can be proud of. It is our desire to help the municipalities in maintaining their volunteer forces for many years through cooperative efforts, management support, and education as well as firefighting training."

Eagle Fire Company Chief Chuck Yingling stated, "We are excited in taking the next step in our affiliation with an outstanding regional department. The Pennsylvania Department of Community and Economic Development (DCED) recommended this action a few years back and we are excited that we are close to realizing that goal. We appreciate the continued support of our surrounding municipalities as we strive to secure outstanding service delivery for years to come."

The Eagle Fire Company is excited to invite State, County and Local officials to this most prestigious occasion in the Department's history.
